Creating Conversations Masterclasses 25th March 2019

‘Re-purposing the ‘Cycle of Violence’

As part of a nine day engagement program in March we have set aside one event that has an open invitation to any person in any context to learn more about Domestic and Family Violence through the lens of ‘Repurposing the ‘Cycle of Violence’ with Dr Linda Coates and Dr Allan Wade

The ‘Cycle of Violence’ is used extensively across sectors, services, in printed materials and on websites throughout Australia. With the best intentions, many of us lean to models and tools in an effort to improve our work, yet we often don’t get the chance to critically analyse the assumptions that sit underneath these tools and consider how our assumptions shape our response.

This masterclass offers the opportunity to explore some broader assumptions and essential foundations to keep in mind. These foundations can inform our understanding about, our representation of and our responses to violence. The ideas shared through the masterclass transcend any professional discipline, and any context and are important to us all.
