

In the face of personal adversity and professional uncertainty there has been extraordinary generosity, creativity and determination to change the status quo in how we understand and respond to domestic, family and sexualised violence (DFSV).

Our thanks extend to everyone who has been involved in the evolution of Insight Exchange.

REFLECTIONS

The Insight Exchange Associates FY20/21 initiative was designed to explore what happens when we enable connections between responders whose professional expertise and context is diverse and disconnected.

We wanted to explore what happens when we create connections within and between our shared work responding to DFSV? Can we build on collective leadership? Draw from diverse perspectives and skillsets? Reveal new insights? Enable peer support? Maximise resources? Evolve practice?

When we enable connection – what is created?
